COMMISSION TO GO AHEAD ON SCHOOL BLDGS.

It was decided by the Loan Fund Commission, at a meeting this morning, to go ahead with the building of the Kaula schoolhouse, for which $30,000 is appropriated. Bids will be invited forthwith for the work.

Governor Frear was consulted by telephone to ascertain if a road proposition related to this school was settled, and he replied that all was right and the commission might proceed with the building.

Land Commissioner Tucker was reported as saying that no doubt negotiations for the site for the proposed Kaula schoolhouse would be satisfactorily concluded.

Mr. Petrie expressed a fear that trains would disturb the school on the proposed site, it being near the railway.

Mr. Fern said most of the people at Kaula Camp had been driven out by the Board of Health. He thought the noise of trains would be so brief as not to amount to a serious disturbance.

Chairman Adams did not regard either objection as sufficient reason for rejecting the site. There was no doubt the place around the school would build up.

No further action was taken. A new courthouse, jail and jailer's cottage at Waiakula on the site of the present buildings, and a similar group of buildings at Ewa, for which a new site has to be sought, were considered together.

Mr. Fern made the suggestion, which was entertained by the other commissioners, that the material in the old courthouse might be utilized in building the jailer's cottage.

There is $6000 appropriated for the Waiakula structures, and $10,000 for the Ewa, including the site.

Mr. Johnson reported on the Ewa site, saying four lots were available but advised that a fifth be bought also, which would make the site 225 feet square, fronting on the main Ewa road. The entire cost would not exceed $7500.

Messrs. Fern, Petrie and Johnson were appointed to attend further to the matter and report back to the commission.

On motion of Mr. Petrie, it was voted to employ Emory & Webb, architects, to draw plans and specifications for both sets of buildings.

It was reported that the Pohukaina schoolhouse was finished but not yet accepted, although the members were satisfied that a good job had been done.

Mr. Fern promised to have data on school street extension completed for next meeting. Cecil Brown and Abraham Fernandez were the only ones holding out for better terms than were offered. Replying to a suggestion by the chairman, that condemnation proceedings be taken once, Mr. Fern advised waiting for the outcome of pending negotiations.

Mr. Adams made the remark that the figures given amounted to nearly one-third of the appropriation of $10,000 for the work.

"People are very eager to get roads, but they don't wait to pay for them," Mr. Fern observed.

"Frog lane!" comically exclaimed the chairman.

A resolution bringing on No. 1 contract of the beforesaid, to adjust the work to the money available, was at Mr. Fern's request deferred till next meeting.

At the close of the meeting the other

POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

With what his friends considered an excellent chance of beating Kuhio for Delegate, Link McCandless, blundering around like the proverbial bull in a china shop, has essayed to drive a nail into his own political coffin by denouncing Jim Coke's candidacy for the Senate in scathing terms and declaring that he would not permit Coke to appear on the Democratic ticket under any conditions. "I'll fight Coke to the end if I lose," McCandless is reported to have said.

Now, it appears that Coke is not a lowly needer for any political boss; that, in fact, he holds the Democratic party on Maui in his vest pocket, and that his friends on Oahu number more than a century's command. Consequently, the advisers of McCandless are aggrieved at the lack of tact and diplomacy shown by their leader and are pleading with him earnestly to leave Oahu and go to some other island, there to stay until the conventions are over. Otherwise they fear he will take another slam at his hitherto bright prospects.

Because of the statements credited to prominent members of the anti-Jarrett faction that they will enroll themselves as members of the Republican party if Jarrett is nominated to succeed himself, a movement is on foot in the various precinct clubs where the Jarrett forces are in control, to anticipate the threat of the Antis and read them out of the Democratic party before the conventions.

The plans for the wholesale ousting are being considered secretly, it is said, but there is every indication that they will be carried out. Jarrett is strong in the majority of the precinct clubs, and so wide is the chasm between the two factions, and so bitter the feeling, that it is believed the proposal to cast the Antis into outer darkness will receive hearty approval.

HOME RULERS MAKE COMMISSION GOVERNMENT PLATFORM ISSUE

Charles K. Nottley, Home Rule leader, and aspirant for Delegate to Congress on the Home Rule ticket, is opposed to the introduction in Hawaii of the commission or military form of government.

Nottley, who will unquestionably receive the nomination of his party for Delegate to Congress, according to the Kuokoa Home Rule, is determined to fight against such government.

The Home Rule platform, which is being drafted by the executive committee, will be introduced in the Home Rule Territorial convention, which meets on the seventeenth of this month in Nottley Hall.

In its editorial of last month, the Home Rule organ intimates that Link McCandless, who received the unanimous endorsement of his party for Delegate to Congress, was conspicuously silent as to the commission or military government for Hawaii. The Home Rule leaders therefore believe that McCandless would be a dangerous man for the voters of Hawaii to support for Delegate to Congress.

Acting on that belief, they are now advocating the Hawaiian voters to vote for Nottley (Kahili) as their next representative in Congress.

The editorial also mentions the fact that in his speech at Ala Park on the night of August 22, Delegate Kuhio stated that the commission or military form of government was at hand, but added that as long as he is Hawaii's Delegate to Congress he will fight against it.

According to a Home Rule leader, the platform under which Nottley will run at the coming campaign will include a clause pertaining to the laws of the Territory.

the way in which he has controlled everything at Waiakula up to the present time.

Supervisor Austin states that if he is elected he will take the job again but that he is not going to fight for it. His name will be one of those which will go before the county convention, however, and it is generally thought that Austin will fight in spite of the denials he makes to the contrary.

M. S. Pacheco is the Portuguese candidate for supervisor and there is no doubt but that he will make a very strong fight and has every chance of being elected. He missed by a few votes last election and it is understood this year that he has the labor union behind him as well as the Portuguese vote. If this is so, then it is very hard to see where David Ewaliko gets off. As usual, David is trying for election as supervisor and will naturally enough want the votes of the labor union behind him. This puts the union in rather a tight corner, as there will be Kealoha, Ewaliko and Pacheco to choose from. At the present time it looks as though Kealoha and Pacheco are standing the best chance, although it is impossible to say anything definite, as all the work is being done underground, and it is only now and then that an occasional glimpse can be obtained.

HAWAII COUNTY POLITICS BUZZ

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

HILO, September 2.—Although on the surface matters political are quiet there are very fierce fires burning down below and every candidate for nomination at the county convention is working his hardest to make sure of his domination.

One of the features of the local political game this year is whether or not John Kealoha, the road supervisor, can hold enough of his road laborers in line to make certain his nomination as supervisor. At the present time he is confident that he can do so, but whether he will or not remains to be seen.

He certainly has a very strong organization, if any weight can be given

VEGETABLE DINNER A LA CASEROLE.

To those who may not have a casserole dish a good-sized bean pot will prove a good substitute, but be sure to have it covered tightly. A boiled dinner prepared in this way and cooked in the oven does away with the disagreeable odor which penetrates every part of the house. One large head of cabbage, one turnip, two carrots, two beets (if small), two parsnips. Put all in casserole with water sufficient to cook, and on top put one pound sausage; cover tightly, and cook four and a half hours; at the end of that time uncover and lay in potatoes that have been parboiled. Cook half an hour longer. Liver and bacon can be used in place of sausage.

POOR MAN'S CAKE.

One egg, one cup sugar, one cup milk, two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon vanilla or other extract, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder. Beat together the egg and sugar till light; add milk, then the melted butter and extract. Sift the flour and baking powder twice; add liquid mixture to them and beat well. Bake about 45 minutes in a moderate oven. —San Francisco Call.

PEANUT COOKIES.

One and a third cups sugar, one cup butter or part drippings, one egg, four tablespoons sweet milk, one teaspoon soda and one cup peanuts put through grinder (one quart before shelled). Flour to roll.
